If player decides to “send to a friend!” rather than “pass down the vine!” s/he can tag a friend from his/her contact list.

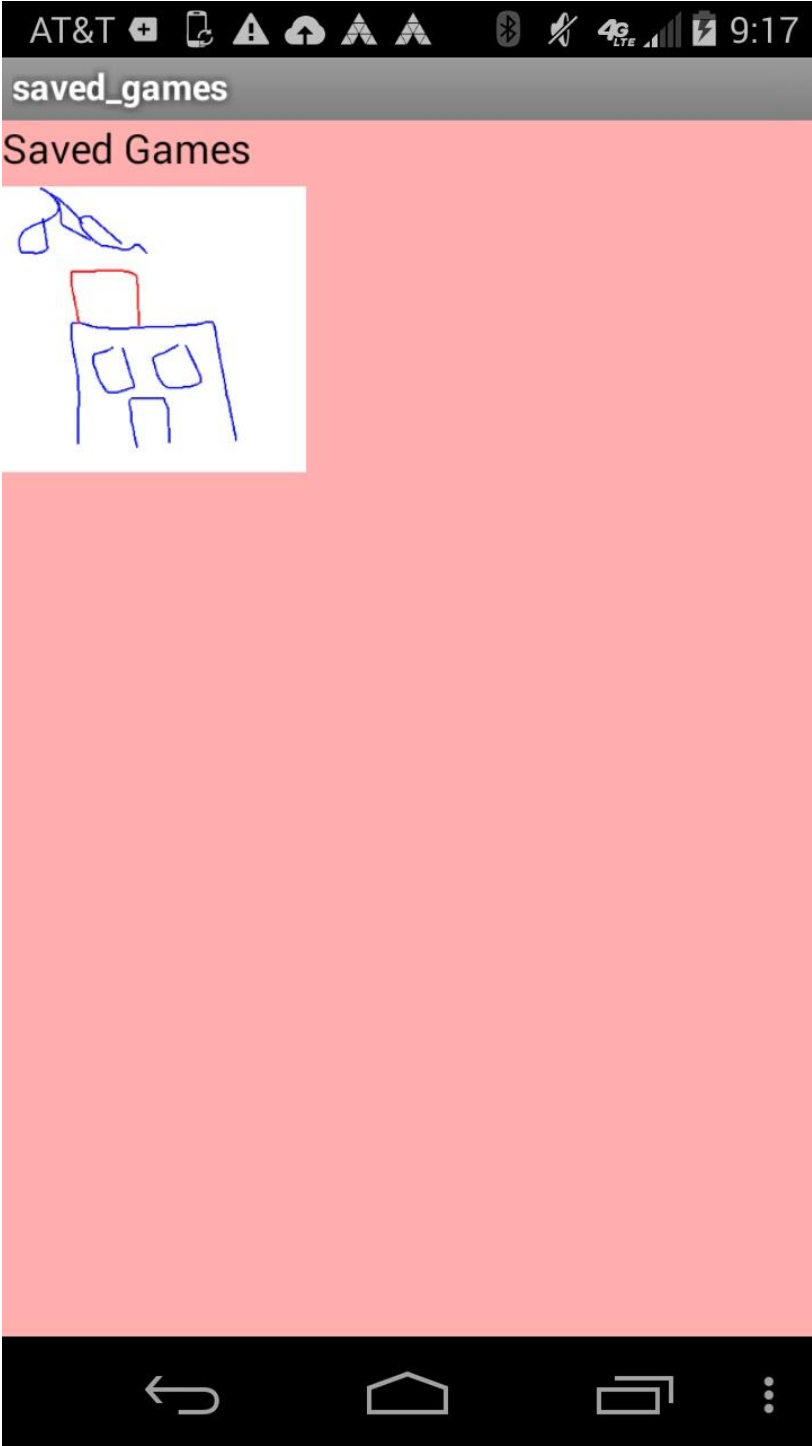

Player then has a variety of options for how to share caption and or picture with another contact.

After last player passes the vine, last screen is a scrollable gallery of all of the captions and pictures in order. Players get to see how the first caption eventually led to the final picture.

Player has the option to save the game and view thumbnails of past saved games.
